

Confidentiality Statement

The Company confirms the following when receiving information disclosure from Life Analytics (hereinafter referred to as "your company") in connection with (hereinafter referred to as the "Project").

- 1 . We will keep the existence and contents of this project, reports and other results of this project, technical information related to samples, documents, materials, drawings, products, prototypes, electronic and magnetic recording media, data, etc. disclosed or provided by your company in the case, and other technical or business information (hereinafter referred to as "confidential information") that you have learned in connection with the Project as confidential, and will not disclose or divulge with any third party.
- 2 . We will not use confidential information for any purpose other than this project.
- 3 . We will not photograph, copy, or reproduce confidential information beyond the scope necessary to carry out this project without your prior consent.
- 4 . We will manage the goods or information set forth in the preceding paragraph with high level of care by locking and storing them, or taking measures to restrict access from persons other than those in charge, such as setting a password for information.
- 5 . We will not allow anyone other than the person in charge of this case to view confidential information without your prior consent.
- 6 . When this project is completed, we will return all confidential goods and copies of the confidential matter provided by you to you and erase all information recorded on your electronic and magnetic recording medium in an irreparable state.
- 7 . The Company shall have the person in charge of this case and other officers, employees, etc. of the Company comply with the contents of this confirmation, and the Company shall be responsible for the actions of those persons.
- 8 . In connection with this matter, we will not disclose to you any confidential information of us and ensure that you are not obligated to maintain confidentiality.
- 9 . The results of the report and other projects and intellectual property rights related to such results belong to you, and we confirm that you are free to use, modify, dispose, etc.
- 10 . In carrying out this project, the Company will comply with laws and regulations related to the security trade control of Japan and applicable foreign countries, such as the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act, and notices related to those laws and regulations regarding the handling of goods delivered by your company and the technology provided.
- 11 . The Company will comply with the contents of this Confirmation by the date stated at the end of this confirmation 5 year. However, we will comply with paragraph 10 as long as the subject exists.

(M/D/Y)

Life Analytics

Your Name)
Your Address)
Your Phone)
Your Email Address)